NEWINGTON - Saint Mary School to play host for the State of Connecticut Consumer Protection Agency's 2009 Law Day Poster Contest concerning "Toy Safety" kick-off. The event will be held on Friday, January 30, 2009 at 9:30 a.m. in Saint Mary School's gymnasium, 652 Willard Avenue, Newington.

Consumer Protection Commissioner Jerry Farrell, Jr. will be on hand to discuss the campaign highlights. In addition, Sister Marie Therese of the Sisters of Mercy convent located on the Saint Mary campus will be present to join in the kick-off. Sister Marie Therese was Commissioner Farrell's 8th Grade Religious Education teacher at the Holy Trinity School in Wallingford, Connecticut. She remembers "Jerry" as being an "extremely generous person who even today continues to help people."

Saint Mary School continues in its pledge of providing Newington's community with a strong quality Catholic education alternative. With the community's support, Saint Mary School will remain an oasis of faith development and a beacon of academic excellence for many future generations of children and their families.
